

DIGITAL FINANCIAL LITERACY FOR SOCIOECONOMIC INCLUSION AND EQUITY

2023-1-LT01-KA220-ADU-000151748

Welcome to the first newsletter of the project DigFinLit!

We present you the aim of the project, its objectives and outputs and introduce the DigFinLit project team.

AIM OF THE PROJECT

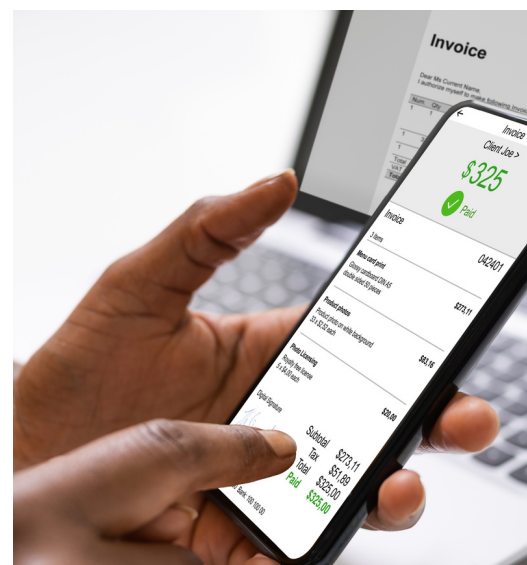

The project is focused on building a Learning Hub called "Digital financial literacy: be smart with your money in the digital age". Its goal is to boost digital financial know-how as a vital part of entrepreneurial competence, helping learners make informed and thoughtful choices in managing their personal finances.

OBJECTIVES

- Motivate adult learners to improve their digital financial literacy and to ensure socioeconomic inclusion and equity through enhanced skills.
- Provide flexible and digitally-transformed learning opportunities to develop digital financial skills.
- Ensure digital assessment of learners' skills needed to have a good level of digital financial literacy.
- Improve competences of adult educators for effective facilitation of digital learning pathways.

OUTPUT

- Digitally-transformed Learning Hub, including a motivational workshop
- E-Pool for adult learners
- Assessment tool with a digital badge for learners
- A set of digital pedagogy methodologies for adult educators-facilitators

KICK-OFF MEETING IN VIENNA

The first project meeting took place in Vienna in November 2023. It was a great chance for partners from Lithuania, Cyprus, Spain, and Austria to get to know each other. We started by introducing ourselves and talking about our organizations and what we hope to achieve with the project.

During the meeting, we discussed the main goals and topics of the project. It was interesting to hear everyone's perspectives and how we can all contribute to making the project successful. Each partner brought unique expertise to the table, making the discussions vibrant and collaborative.

Looking forward, we set the date for our next meeting in Spain, which will be in October 2024. We are excited about the upcoming discussions, where we will dive deeper into the project details and continue building strong connections among the partners.
